2. Background of the Project:

(Please provide a background of the operational area, its communities and key development issues. Within that explain the need for the current intervention)

Infrastructure Management is an emerging market in the growing Indian economic scenario. The current market size has been estimated as 585 Bn INR with YOY growth of approx 25%. With the growth in aspiration on living standards the emphasis on Infrastructure Management is becoming an immense important area of focus across the sectors of Retail, Hotel, infrastructures, residential and commercial. The focus is further going to be critical while bringing the concept of smart cities in reality. Therefore, time has come to view Infrastructure Management as a profession of expertise and gear up with the right skills to deliver to the expectations of consumers. Till now, this industry is being managed by resources who does not go through any formal learning process befitting to the requirement of the industry and thus tends to practice the profession with the learning's picked up from the industry itself. Such learnings, many a times might turn out to be of failure as it always leaves a scope of wide gap in understanding the basics of handling various functions of Infrastructure Management. Typically the industry recruits Managers from the academic background of Electrical, Civil, Mechanical Engineering and expects them to function in all the areas like Electro Mechanical Maintenance, Housekeeping, Security, Parking Management, Waste Management, Water supply and distribution, firefighting system, sewage management system and various statutory aspects connected with the establishments. Such expectations on diversified areas of Infrastructure Management puts the candidates under pressure and confusion leading to substandard delivery. We understood this gap and initiated a certification training programme for students of who are interested to work in this field. The outcome of the training is to provide the skilled resource person for this diverse industry with basic training mainly in electrical, mechanical, hospitality, safety and security.

3. Profile of Employment Opportunities and Employment Trends in the Area:

(Provide a description of the existing employment opportunities and trends in the intervention area. Share as much data as possible related to these.)

As explained earlier it's a very huge industry so we are categorising the JOB Market for your further reference.

- Category A: MNC's In Property Management Solutions –JLL, C&W, CBRE, Future Group etc.)
- Category B: Internal Property Management - These companies handle their Property by its own employees in their payroll eg : Prestige, Sobha Developers .
- Category C: MNC's working in this field and they handle entire system in their own rolls, We would like to employ our students in these types of companies as well eg . SODEXO, COMPASS GROUP, VESTIAN, QUESS CORP etc.
- Category D: Reputed Companies from India working as Vendors to MNC or direct contract, huge number of Vacancies available and we will employ our students in this category as well e.g. SIS Group, DTS, UDS etc.
- Category D: Big Residential Complex's, Clubs etc. which mainly building Association runs and give contract to various vendors which they have few people on Association rolls.
- Category E: Local Sub Contractors of Indian Companies.

4. Goals and Objectives of this Project under the Program:
(What are the major problems that the current project is trying to overcome? What is the broad goal and the more specific objectives?)

IMS Course is mainly developed with six years of deep understanding about Facility Management Business & Property Management Solutions in India which we have went through several researches and reviews. We are also personally executed this business for a company for almost 3 yr's so we are very well aware of the need of the industry to induct qualified people .

In brief today many Companies and investors and infused their fund to develop property's in various forms like Malls, Tech Parks , Huge Residential Complexes etc. but current scenario many of the properties are handling by local Facility Management Companies on their own contract or contract through Many MNC's as first vendor . Unfortunately the way of understanding about the building especially technical part is very weak in these companies because of less competent manpower availability in the market, because of complex method of operation and unorganized handling many of qualified people and not coming or not interested to coming to this industry as a first choice. Here comes our opportunity as an organization which is having deep information and knowledge we would like to work on the Mid hierarchy of this Company especially for their operational excellence we would like to induct qualified people.

Mid Management- As far as Industry Concerned top Management and Senior management is highly qualified in this industry but the people who handle the project in site which is mid-level (Facility Manager , Facility executive , Facility Supervisor) people are not qualified as per the requirements eg : A housekeeper gets experience and over period of 10 years and he became Ast. Facility Manger where he is not aware any other crucial need of the building and also he is not able to handle Client requirements as well ,also they are not technology competent for their reporting, Information sharing and many other areas

It is very important to induct skilled people in this segment to empower the organization in terms of Operational Excellence, Business forecast and for a professional approach. We had a long discussion with various companies about this subset and they have fully agreed about our study and seeking skilled candidates from us.
