HUMAN VALUES & PROFESSIONAL ETHICS

HUMAN VALUES & PROFESSIONAL ETHICS

1.Spirituality revisit session

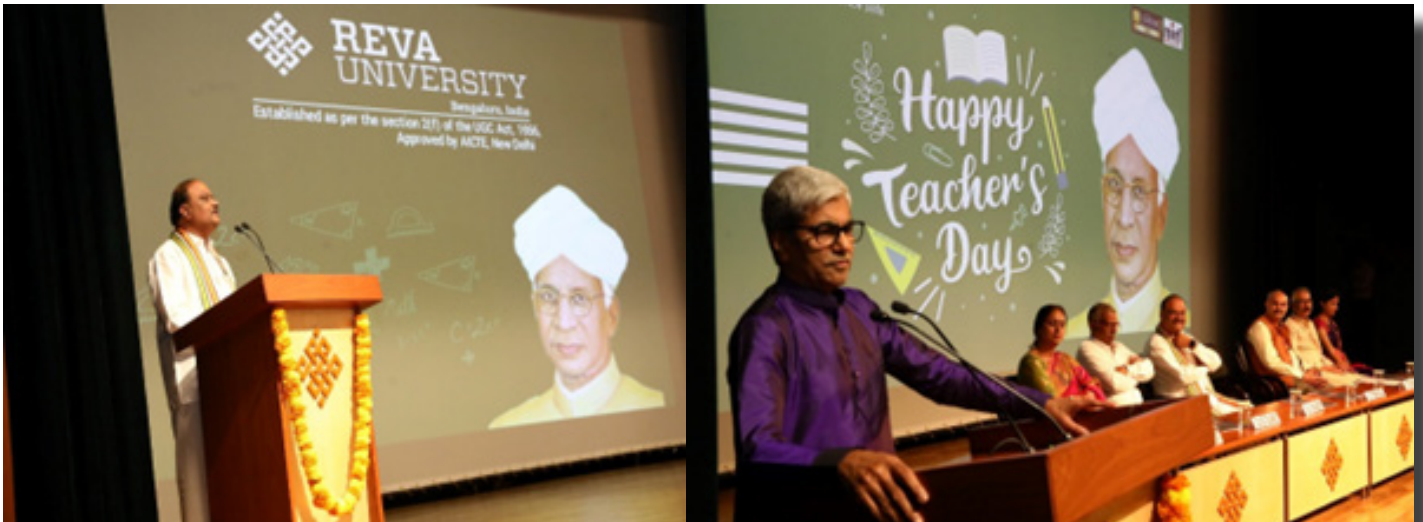

Sukhbodhanda series:

Every year 2 days are dedicated in the month of February for evening retreat with Swami Sukhbodhanda. The session are more of a self-development, practice of values and focus on core values to be followed by teacher's educators. All these sessions are documented in REVA Insights for quick reference and revisit of the videos.

2.Teachers' day

Every September 5 is a special day for teachers at REVA. On the day, various programmes are arranged by students for their teachers, social media handles of the university carry specific testimonials of teachers and student bonding session are organized for teachers followed by a special address by the chancellor. This is followed by a felicitation and reward ceremony for distinguished teacher for their service while Lunch is a great bonding time.

3.CHINTHAN

Chinthan at REVA is organized on the 4th Saturday of every month. On this day of the month the Chancellor Dr. P. Shyama Raju addresses the entire teaching and non-teaching faculty on issues for deliberation which ranges from organizational ethics, core values, leadership, approaches and leadership styles. This has a great impact on the faculty and deliberation are conducted on matters of education in the forum. The minutes are later circulated amongst all.

4. Manthan

Manthan is a session organized by the University and chaired by Chancellor for senior leadership of the university and is a session which is a part of the participative management governance of the university

5.Sneha Sammelana

A one-day bonding time is scheduled every year in the last week of annual calendar in December. This is a great time for bonding and networking between teaching and non-teaching staff of the entire REVA group. The senior leadership chooses the destination for the outing and this is a day for fun and frolic
